Project Management

Project Management ... from Foundation to Automation ... Total integration of projects big or small!!!

Let a company with fantastic staff diversity lead you to success. No proprietary work, programming, or skills knowledge with us. Our success is your success and full knowledge transfer from our skilled workforce is transferred to your staff. IEM experience and our staff diversity give you the best chance for total success on your projects.

We evaluate the customer's applications and projects and assemble the optimum number of team members and skill sets. Often we enlist the help of contractors local to your plant, or we can recommend fabricators with expertise for your specific project. IEM service engineers have managed many different projects involving building, mechanical, electrical, and automation trades and we stay all the way; fabrication, installation, start-up, and commissioning. Look to IEM for the total, single-source solution.
